Rioli urging public to check health decide on the general public to get on board the initiative too.

Three years since its first visit to Parliament House, HealthLAB will again allow politicians to measure their health.

Mr Rioli said test showed how lifestyle choices affected a person’s future health. “The Menzies HealthLAB has already given many people the confidence to look after their health and make positive lifestyle changes,” he said.

Visit www.menzies.edu.au/HealthLAB for more information.