Diabetes project

A PROJECT aimed at improving health outcomes, systems of care and services for women with diabetes in pregnancy, has made its way to the Far North. Led by Menzies School of Health Research, the Diabetes in Pregnancy (DIP) Partnership Project involves the maintenance of a clinical register for mothers with diabetes in pregnancy, including birth outcomes and enhanced models of care for women in Far North Queensland. To get involved or for more details, visit dipp.org.au or contact FNQ DIP Partnership co-ordinator Kirby Murtha on DiP-PiNQ@menzies.edu.au, Kirby.Murtha@menzies.edu.au or 4226 4639.
